

Milica Pejanovic-Djurisic

Professor and Director of the Centre for Telecommunications at the University of Montenegro

Milica Pejanovic-Djurisic is full professor in telecommunications at the University of Montenegro, Faculty of Electrical Engineering. She is also Director of its Centre for Telecommunications. Mrs. Pejanovic-Djurisic graduated in 1988 at the University of Montenegro with BSc degree in Electrical Engineering. She has got MSc and PhD degrees in Telecommunications at University of Belgrade. She has published more than 200 scientific papers in international and domestic journals and conference proceedings. Her main research interests are: wireless communications theory, wireless networks performance improvement, broadband transmission techniques, optimization of electronic communication development policy. She has considerable industry and operating experiences working as industry consultant (Ericsson, Siemens) and Telecom Montenegro Chairman of the Board. She has taken part in many internationally and EU funded ICT projects with domestic and international partners. She is an evaluation expert for EU FP7 projects in the field of ICT and a member of IEEE and IEICE.

Prof. Pejanovic-Djurisic has also a considerable experience in the field of electronic communication regulation. Being an ITU expert, she participates in a number of missions and ITU activities related with regulatory issues, development strategies and new technological solutions.

Prof. Pejanovic-Djurisic has been elected Member of the State Presidency of Montenegro (1990-1992), Member of the Parliament of Montenegro (1993-2001), Ambassador of Serbia & Montenegro in Belgium and Luxembourg, and the first Ambassador of Montenegro in France and UNESCO (2007-2010).